

Once Upon A Time

Choreography by Mark Diamond
Music by G.Rossini, Shostakovich, Kabalevsky, Borodin
Lighting design by Nate McGaha
Costume design by Mark Diamond and Summer Collins

As the overture ends and the curtain goes up, we see a little girl kneeling beside her bed saying her prayers. As she gets into bed Grandpa comes in with his story-book and sits in a big chair and opens the book. Each night he reads a new story but often dozes off to sleep. That's when things go wrong, and characters seem to come to life and get mixed into the wrong stories.
